To Whom It May Concern:

James Dylan Denning was hired as a professional IT consultant for Professional League Resources, Inc. to develop and build an in-house Java application to streamline the monthly co-op billing process for our internal accounting team. This has saved our team hours monthly and has increased the accuracy of the necessary output data.

The work was completed and presented in a professional manner, and it was an absolute pleasure to work with him. I would use and recommend Dylan and his IT services in the future.

Kind Regards,
